“Walking together, experiencing and sharing God’s love.”

JUNE/JULY 2024

From the Pastor

Daily, the weather people remind us that we are in June gloom. Personally I refuse to live with that cloud of gloom hanging over me.

Each morning my practice is to take a few minutes before I place my feet on the floor to give thanks for the day, for my life, my health, my family, my friends, and this church community. This is a great way to dispel any sense of gloom, worry, anxiety or fear about our lives. It reminds me that God is in control, not ME.

I am blessed to serve this community of faith that reaches out in so many ways to help others who are going through one of those challenging times in life. You send cards, make calls, visit people, and pray for each other. More than that, you are there to just listen when someone needs a friend.

This ministry of compassion is what makes Broadmoor church stand out and shine in the community.

We just celebrated 75 years of ministry. What a wonderful Pentecot day it was. The sanctuary was full. We heard loving words from former pastors and friends of the church. The church was honored by the mayor of Daly City, the Honorable Juslyn Manalo.

Thank you to all of you who made this day such a wonderful celebration. Thank you to the planning committee who worked endlessly to gather 75 years of history in word and picture, who put together the luncheon that followed the service. Thank you to those who worked behind the scenes setting up, decorating, shopping, and cleaning up.

If you find yourself slipping into any gloomy thoughts about the future of this church - please don't.

The aftermath of our celebration is renewed energy and hope for our future. There is already talk about a “Coming Home” kind of celebration next year. Something to think about...

Blessings,

Kathryn

Building & Grounds

We are very fortunate to have Pastors Roberto Zuniza and Karlana Carillo of Ministerios Celebracion church. They care very much for this house of worship and are appreciated.

We discovered a hole in our roof and a couple of missing vents. A trap door cover was made for the hole and vents were made and installed, thanks to Manuel Venegas, our new handyman. Thanks Manuel!

Our June 2nd Summer Book Swap is a big success. Thanks to all who brought books and to all who took books.

Mission Corner

Spotlighting the Work of Meals on Wheels

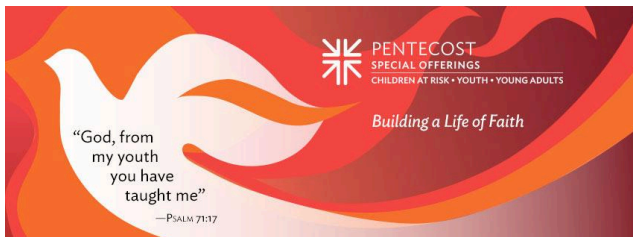

As a church that endeavors to stay true to its commitment to be a Matthew 25 church, our support of the Meals on Wheels program highlights that commitment. Meet one of our mission partners, Meals on Wheels.

The Meals on Wheels is a nationwide program that was founded over 50 years ago. The program delivers a hot meal to the home of persons aged 60 or over who are homebound and unable to shop and prepare their own meals and has no one to assist them. Did you know that there are an estimated 2.5 million seniors who are not receiving the services they need? In addition, Meals on Wheels also deliver a hot meal to the home of disabled individuals who are within the ages of 18-59.

There are new studies that have shown the positive impacts that Meals on Wheels has in people's lives. This program serves as a lifeline to those struggling with food insecurity, nutrition challenges, mobility, loneliness and countless other difficulties of aging or disability. The delivery of a nutritious meal creates the opportunity to build a relationship with the individual senior, opening the door for Meals on Wheels providers to identify and deliver valuable services that promote independence and well-being.

It's amazing to think that our donations, along with others throughout our community, makes a positive difference in people's lives. Now that's living up to being a Matthew 25 church.

This year's Pentecost Special Offerings totalled $491, where 40% will stay with us to share with one of our Mission partners. Thank you all!

Presbyterian Women

Hosted by the Zipporah Circle, PW members met for Bible study and fellowship in the Calvin Room at 10:30 a.m., June 18, for Lessons 7-8 of "Sacred Encounters."

Issues of next year's Bible study have appeared already in our mailboxes. Entitled "Let Justice Flow Down: God's Call to Care for Neighbors and All Creation," it is more than a Bible study. It is a call to action, discernment and prayer for God's faithful to speak out and find ways to address or counter the impact of human-made stress on our environment.

If you haven't had a chance to read the March/April issue of the Horizons magazine, I hope you can do so soon. Highlights for me: the article on page 8 written by Teresa Chavez Saucedo, formerly of SF Presbytery. See page 23 for these words in the installation service: "As people of faith, we are called to God's love for us by loving one another." On page 28, we see Martha Espinosa's name as one of the recipients of the 2023 Honorary Life Membership! On the back cover, a reminder that it's not too late to register for the 2024 Churchwide Gathering of Presbyterian Women, held in St. Louis, Missouri, August 8-11, 2024.

The date of the next PW meeting, hosted by the Abigail Circle, will be determined by those present at our Circle gathering on June 18.

IN CLOSING

As I turn off the light
And prepare for the night
I thank you, Lord, for the gift of today
For the comfortable bed on which I lay.

I thank you, Lord, for the strength to be Open to those who have needed me.
In peaceful slumber I shall know no fear
For you, my Saviour, are always near.
Amen.

—Beatrice O'Brien

Let us pray . . .

God of curiosity, restoration, compassion, and hope as we gather to discern the mind of Christ and your will we strive to live into these promises you have made

Let us live into trust: enough to bring our whole selves into this space not to avoid conflict, just get along, or to suppress righteous indignation but to rage together, fear together, cry together, and struggle together

Let us live into grace: enough to assume goodness in one another not to see one another as adversaries, enemies, and the other but as collaborators, accomplices, and members of One Body

Let us live into courage: enough to wrestle with one another not to destroy, dominate, or diminish the other but to discern, discover, and adventure into who You are calling us to become

Let us live into humility: enough to confess our complicities not to be confined into boxes of winners and losers but to be unbound in order to grow into the new creation you call us to be

Let us live into creativity: enough to free our bodies, minds, and spirits to know play as restoration to know movement as proclamation to know silence as solidarity to know laughter as liberation and to know joy as a healing balm for a hurting world

Let us live into generosity: enough to honor the realities of our time together offering patience to the Moderator, staff, assistants, volunteers, and one another affirming that we are imperfect people, trusting an imperfect process paying attention to the timer, flags, and microphones and savoring the honor and privilege of being gathered in this space

Let us live into action: enough to transform decisions made into actions lived out to follow through on promises made to one another to move through the world guided by the fullness of our time together and to embrace curiosity as an act of ongoing trust and transformation

God, throughout the generations we have gathered in different configurations during different cultural moments with different attitudes of engagement

we have been agents of healing and hope and we have reinforced systems of hurt and pain

And yet, over and over again because of and despite what we have done General Assemblies have been opened up to the surprising and sweeping movement of the Spirit

May we again and always be so open

And the 226th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (USA) says, Amen

~ Rev. Bruce Reyes-Chow

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (USA) meets every two years for just over a week to conduct business of the church that impacts politics, policies, and programs. The body comprises Commissioners from across the country, and the meeting is moderated by two people elected from the body to serve as Moderators, Co-Moderators, and/or Vice Moderators until the convening of the next General Assembly. Countless others support the work of the General Assembly. It is truly a massive undertaking. #GA226 is being held online and in person in Salt Lake City, Utah.
